BPC Thanks Community for Supporting Blood Drive

Brewton-Parker College would like to thank the members of the Mount Vernon/Ailey community for participating in a blood drive sponsored by BPC's Office of Student Services July 19 on the Mount Vernon campus. This was not only a chance for the Mount Vernon/Ailey community to participate in a worthy cause, but it also helped Montgomery County exceed their goal of 18 units of blood. "We had 29 potential donors with 26 useable units donated, so the event was a big success," stated Dr. Charlie Bass, Director of Student Services. The next blood drive is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 19, from 1:30-6:30 p.m. in the Briscoe Center on the Mount Vernon Campus. To learn more about BPC hosted blood drives, contact the Office of Student Services at 912-583-3208.

DBA Campers Lend a Helping Hand at BPC

DBA Surge campers trim hedges and trees around the Salter building.

Brewton-Parker College welcomed approximately 115 youth campers and counselors from the Daniell Baptist Association to campus earlier this month. DBA's SURGE Camp July 8-12 was for students grades 7 to 12. Campers worked in mission teams both on and off campus to provide a helping hand to the community. This is the twelfth year the South Georgia Association, which is based out of Ailey, has held its summer program on the BPC campus. More photos can be found at www.facebook.com/brewtonparker.

Oldest Living Alumnus Visits Gates Hall

Brewton Parker College's oldest living alumnus, Mrs. Mell Whipple, along with her daughter Annette Ewing, paid a special visit to the college on July 24. During their visit, Whipple shared stories of the past with President Mike Simoneaux (center) and Interim Director of Development Dave Wallace (right). Whipple is the daughter of former BPC President Albert Martin Gates (1922-1941). Not pictured, Annette Ewing.

BPC Alum Selected for AICPA Leadership Academy

ATLANTA, June 27, 2013 — Draffin & Tucker, LLP is pleased to announce that manager Kathryn Fletcher has been selected as one of 38 young CPAs to participate in the American Institute of CPAs 5th annual Leadership Academy in Durham, N.C. from Sept. 29 – Oct. 3.

“Being selected for the AICPA’s Leadership Academy means being part of an elite group of the best and brightest young minds in the accounting profession,” said Caturano. “These young CPAs are poised to make a positive impact in the profession, and the training they will receive will serve them well as they take the next steps in their careers.”

The AICPA selected the 38 attendees of the Leadership Academy from more than 120 candidates recommended by their employers, state CPA societies or both. Candidates submitted resumes which included work history, licensure information, professional volunteer activities, community service, and awards and honors.

Fletcher will join an exclusive group of rising stars in the accounting profession to learn leadership theory and strategic planning techniques while developing tools for handling complex management challenges. Leadership Academy participants, all under age 36, will discuss pressing issues facing CPAs and the accounting profession with some of the profession’s most influential leaders, including AICPA Chairman Richard Caturano, CPA, CGMA, and Barry Melancon, CPA, CGMA, the Institute’s president and CEO.

Fletcher is a quality control manager in Draffin & Tucker’s Atlanta office and assists the firm with accounting and auditing research, attest engagement reviews, training and development of firm personnel, and monitoring the firm’s quality control policies. She is one of 42 professionals selected for the Leadership Gwinnett Class of 2014 and is the 2013-2014 President-Elect of the Junior League of Gwinnett & North Fulton Counties. Fletcher received her Bachelor of Science degree from Brewton-Parker College and is currently working on her MBA from Kennesaw State University.
